Each Mobile Education Team (MET) course in the International Defense Acquisition Resource Management (IDARM) series can be developed using a three-phased approach in partnership with the host country's military and civilian leadership and managers. This Curriculum Development is phase two. This phase builds upon the information gathered during the phase I needs assessment/in country site survey. Phase II is accomplished via MET or in CONUS. In either case, the tailored curriculum will be presented to the partner nation delegation for approval and any necessary modifications will be implemented.

OBJECTIVES

- ◆ Further refine understanding of the host nation's defense acquisition priorities, policies and procedures.
- ◆ Using known country requirements and the established instructional techniques, a curriculum is designed to meet desired learning outcomes.

TOPICS AND PARTICIPANTS

The preferred location for Phase II program design is at the ISG-IDARM in Monterey, CA. Country representatives may be permitted to travel to the United States and meet with faculty who will develop and deliver the courses.

FACULTY

ISG employs a diverse faculty with strong professional, academic, military, and government backgrounds. This faculty core is augmented by other government experts (both civilian and military) and subject matter experts (SMEs) drawn from universities, think tanks, international organizations, and industry.

ENROLLMENT

Courses are conducted for partner countries as part of the United States government's security assistance and security cooperation efforts. As such, participation in ISG courses is managed through the security cooperation office of the US Embassies in partner countries. Interested, non-US persons should contact the international cooperation section of their own government or the relevant US Embassy for selection processes and enrollment. ISG reserves limited space in courses for US citizens. Interested US citizens may contact ISG to discuss availability.

FUNDING

ISG can accept most types of US government funding. Courses are typically funded by IMET, FMF, FMS, CTIWFP, PKO, and other DoD-wide O&M funds (333, MSI, etc) on a case-by case basis. Cost estimates can be obtained by contacting ISG.

ABOUT ISG

The Institute for Security Governance (ISG) is a global security cooperation organization established to build partner capability and grow the field and practice of institutional capacity building (ICB). Located in Monterey, California, ISG serves as the Defense Security Cooperation Agency (DSCA)'s primary resource for ICB integration and implementation, project scoping and design, and education and advising expertise.

This course is a key component of ISG's 25-year-long effort to provide military and civilian officials with unique education and professional development programs. Designed to cultivate individual understanding of complex issues and foster peer-to-peer learning, this custom-tailored course offering brings theoretical and applied learning practices into a exciting and rich classroom environment.
