ELIGIBLE FUNDING: IMET, FMF/FMS
CERTIFICATION: PME

The Institute for Security Governance (ISG) Train the Trainers (T3) peacekeeping course enhances the skills of trainers, enabling them to develop situational training exercises (STX) based on peacekeeping mission mandates, essential tasks, and implied tasks, to achieve the mandate at the tactical level. The course meets current standards of performance established by the United Nations (UN) and includes best practices from training conducted by other nations involved in peacekeeping operations.

OBJECTIVES

At the end of the course, participants will be able to:

- ◆ Identify major issues in modern peace support operations
- ◆ Understand the UN's role in peacekeeping operations, education, and training
- ◆ Define common UN peacekeeping tasks
- ◆ Describe and demonstrate appropriate use of processes and products for developing situational lane training
- ◆ Exhibit process-centered skills

TOPICS

This course enhances nations' capacities to engage in peacekeeping by developing their training institutions' internal peacekeeping training capabilities and increases the number of trained training officers available to support UN peacekeeping missions. The T3 course leads participants through an analytical progression model of analyzing mandates, identifying relevant tasks, and developing STXs. The training methodology is centered on presentations by subject matter experts in conjunction with group and plenary discussions. Course topics may include:

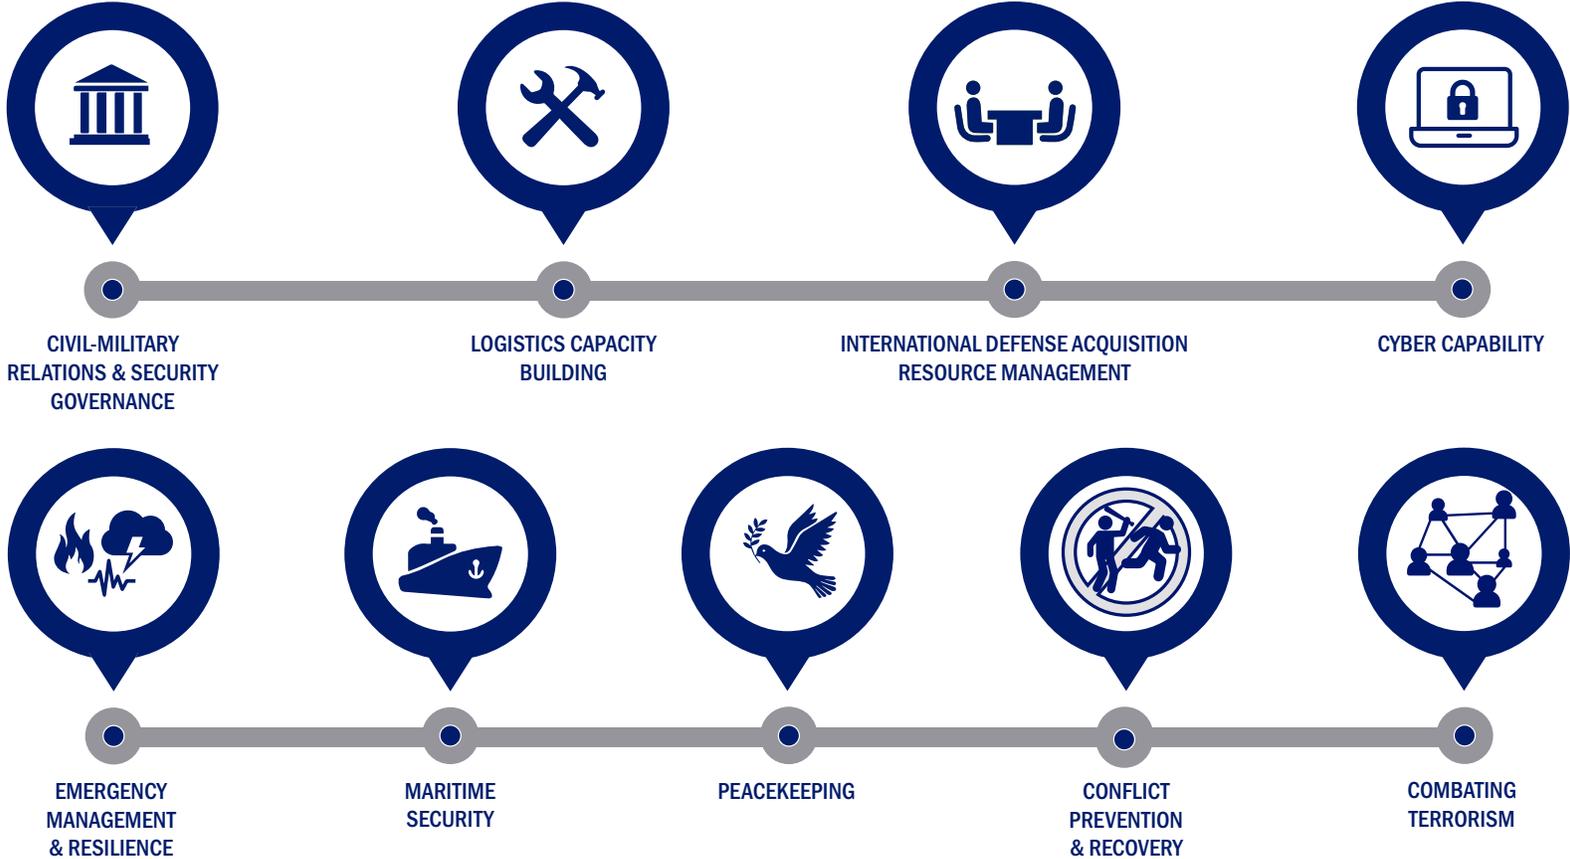

- ◆ Situational training exercise design principles
- ◆ Training objectives development: top-down mission analysis
- ◆ Tactical security operations in UN PKO and lane design
- ◆ Role player utilization and scripting
- ◆ Training safety plans, exercise control, and logistics issues
- ◆ Developing evaluations and conducting after-action reviews

PARTICIPANTS

The optimum course size is 30 students from countries participating in the Global Peacekeeping Operations Initiative (GPOI). Participant rank or grade equivalents should be that of junior- to mid-level officers. Previous peacekeeping experience is desirable, and preference is given to nominees with training responsibility or officers serving with units earmarked for deployment to peacekeeping operations.

ISG PROGRAM AREAS

ISG programming has been developed over 25 years by providing military and civilian officials with unique education and professional development programs. Courses are designed to cultivate individual understanding of complex issues, foster peer-to-peer learning, and build connected networks of international peers through a professional learning environment.

FACULTY

ISG has a diverse faculty team grounded in professional experience from academic, military, government, and civil sectors. The core faculty are augmented by experts drawn from other parts of government, and American and international subject matter experts drawn from universities, industry, think tanks, international organizations, and non-governmental organizations.

ENROLLMENT

Courses are conducted with partner nations as part of the US Government security cooperation effort. Participation in ISG courses is managed through the Security Cooperation Office of the US Embassy in-country. Interested partner nation personnel should work through their government's international cooperation section, or the relevant US Embassy's security/military cooperation section for selection processes and enrollment. Where appropriate, ISG reserves limited space in courses for US citizens. Interested US citizens may contact ISG to discuss availability.

FUNDING

ISG can accept most types of US Government funding. Courses are typically funded by IMET, FMF, FMS, CTIWWP/RDFP, PKO, and other DoD-wide O&M funds (333, 332, MSI, etc.). Cost estimates can be obtained by contacting ISG or the applicable NETSAFA Country Program Manager.
